Some Facts About Financial Aid

2013-14
What is Financial Aid?

Financial aid is money available from federal, state, university, and private sources to help students meet college costs. Financial aid helps fill the gap between the cost of attending college and the amount that students and their families can afford to pay.

Two types or categories of financial aid are available. Scholarships and grants are referred to as gift aid, since these funds do not need to be repaid. Self-help aid includes work-study and loans. Your own aid “package” may include several types of awards. Financial aid pays for educational costs including:

► Tuition and fees
► Room and board
► Books and supplies
► Personal expenses
► Transportation costs

Am I Eligible?

Almost anyone who needs financial assistance to attend UC Santa Cruz may be eligible to receive financial aid. However, you must meet the following requirements:

► You must be a U.S. citizen or an eligible noncitizen to apply for federal, state, and institutional aid through the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Foreign students with student visas are not eligible for financial aid. Under Assembly Bill 130 and 131, students who qualify for a non-resident tuition exemption known as AB 540, and are otherwise ineligible to file a FAFSA may qualify for institutional and state aid by filing a Dream Application.
► You must be in a degree or certificate program. Enrollment in a UC Santa Cruz Education Abroad Program is considered enrollment at UC Santa Cruz for the purposes of all types of financial aid described in this brochure. Summer session only students (not otherwise enrolled at the campus), those enrolled through UCSC Extension and/or Concurrent Enrollment, and those enrolled in limited-status or other non–degree granting programs are not eligible.
► You must not be in default on a loan (examples: Federal Perkins, Federal Stafford Student Loan, Federal Direct Student Loan) nor owe a repayment on any Pell or Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant.
► You must be registered with the Selective Service if you are male, at least 18 years old, and were born after December 31, 1959 unless you meet certain specified exceptions.
► You must be enrolled at least half-time and be making satisfactory academic progress.
► Students pursuing a second baccalaureate degree are eligible for student loans only.
► If you have been convicted of possessing or selling drugs while receiving federal financial aid, you may not qualify for federal aid (call [800] 433-3243 to find out if this applies to you). This will not affect your eligibility for other types of aid we administer.
► List UC Santa Cruz school code 001321 on your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at fafsa.gov.
► Contact our office or the Federal Student Aid Info Center for free help completing the FAFSA at (800) 433-3243.

How Much Will I Receive?

The basic premise of all need-based financial aid programs is that students and their families have the primary responsibility for financing the cost of the student’s education and should do so to the extent they can contribute. Your family is expected to utilize its resources to make higher education a priority. Our job is to evaluate your resources and calculate how much aid, if any, you’ll need each year. Below is the federal formula used to calculate your eligibility for need-based financial aid:

Estimate of Costs (Standard Student Budget)
- minus the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) as determined by the FAFSA/Dream Application
- minus Other resources (scholarships, etc.)
- equals Need-Based Aid Eligibility

After we subtract your parent contribution, student contribution, and other resources from the standard student budget, the remaining amount (if any) is your eligibility for need-based aid. If your resources exceed your budget, you will be assigned non-need-based loans to which you and/or your parents may apply.

Standard Student Budgets

Every year, the Financial Aid and Scholarship Office establishes standard budgets that include direct educational costs such as tuition, fees, and on-campus housing as well as a modest, but adequate living allowance for the academic year. These budgets are based on actual costs and survey data, and are a major factor in assessing your financial need. Financial aid is intended to pay for your educational costs and living expenses while you are enrolled. It does not cover living expenses during breaks.

Dependency Status

After determining your standard student budget, we determine your dependency status. Your dependency status is determined on the basis of the information provided on your FAFSA. The federal government uses strict criteria to determine dependency status. Financial support is not the sole consideration to determine dependency upon parents. Please visit our website to view the criteria used. (financialaid.ucsc.edu/types-eligibility/eligibility/efc.html)

Your Expected Family Contribution

PARENT CONTRIBUTION
The amount of the parent contribution (which is calculated for dependent students) is based on the information reported on your FAFSA or Dream Application and on information from supporting documents we may request. The major factors we consider in determining the amount of the parent contribution are income, net asset equity (excluding primary home residence equity), household size, parent age, the number of children in the family, and the number of children enrolled in college.

We consider the parent contribution as a financial resource even if you do not receive this entire amount from your parents.

STUDENT CONTRIBUTION
The student contribution is based on your income and assets such as cash, savings, and investments as reported on the FAFSA or Dream Application as well as information from supporting documents we may request. Students may earn money for their contribution during the summer or the school year.

SPECIAL FINANCIAL CIRCUMSTANCES

If your family has very recent unusual financial circumstances, such as the loss of a job, that cause an unreasonable hardship to providing the parent or student contribution, you may write a letter to the Financial Aid and Scholarship Office explaining and documenting the special situation. High mortgage costs, consumer debt, and other discretionary expenses commonly incurred in most households do not qualify as special financial circumstances.

Meeting Your Financial Need

After we have established that you qualify for aid, we design a financial aid “package” to meet your financial need. Many students receive a financial aid package comprised of both gift aid (grants and scholarships) and self-help aid (low-interest loans and work-study). In fall 2012-13, students received grants and scholarships averaging $12,912; student loans averaging $6,247 and work-study averaging $1,500. Keep in mind that each financial aid recipient’s package is unique because circumstances vary widely from one family to another.

What if I Need More Help?

Other options or financing strategies include:

- Applying for scholarships from other agencies
- Working during summers and school breaks
- Working part-time during the academic year either on or off-campus
- Signing up for fee and/or on-campus housing monthly payment plans
- Applying for loans from private lenders

Financial Aid Programs

GRANT PROGRAMS

Grants are awarded to students demonstrating greatest financial need. Grants do not have to be repaid if all eligibility criteria are fulfilled.

UC Blue and Gold Opportunity Plan*

The UC Blue and Gold Opportunity Plan ensures that undergraduate California residents, whose total family income is under $80,000, will receive enough gift aid from all sources to cover UC fees each year for 4 years of study (2 for transfer students). Students must qualify for financial aid and meet application deadlines each year.

Federal Pell Grants are awarded to low-income undergraduates, based on a schedule established by the U.S. Department of Education. Visit studentaid.ed.gov for more details; see “Types of Aid” “Grants.”

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants* are awarded to undergraduates with exceptional financial need.

UC Santa Cruz Grants* are provided by UC and awarded to undergraduates with financial need.

Cal Grant A* is awarded by the California Student Aid Commission based on academic achievement and need. Eligibility requirements include a 3.0 GPA and California residency.

Cal Grant B* is awarded by the California Student Aid Commission to eligible California residents with significant financial need and a GPA of 2.0 or higher. Freshmen recipients receive Access Grants. Continuing recipients receive Access and Fee Grants. More information is available at csac.ca.gov.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Regents Scholarships* are awarded to undergraduates at the University of California in recognition of outstanding academic achievement, regardless of financial need. The award for first year students is $20,000 over 4 years: $4,000 for the first and second years and $6,000 for the third and fourth years. The award for transfer students is $10,000 over 2 years: $4,000 for the first year and $6,000 for the second year. Students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 and enroll in 15 units each term to qualify for renewal. Scholars must meet GPA and academic progress requirements each year to qualify for awards in subsequent years.

Undergraduate Dean’s Award is awarded to non-resident students in recognition of academic achievement. This award includes a 4 year University housing guarantee. The award for first year students is $20,000 over 4 years: $4,000 for the first and second years and $6,000 for the third and fourth years. The award for transfer students is $10,000 over 2 years: $4,000 for the first year and $6,000 for the second year. Students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 and enroll in 15 units each term to qualify for renewal.

Campus Merit Scholarships* are awarded to undergraduate students who demonstrate high academic achievement. These scholarships are renewable and pay from $500 to $1,500 per year. Awards vary depending on financial need as determined by the FAFSA. Scholars must meet GPA and academic progress requirements each year to qualify for awards in subsequent years.

Other Campus Scholarships* are donated by benefactors of the University. A variety of scholarships are available that recognize special attributes such as county of residence, academic majors, special interests, and family background. Awards are made to students who meet individual scholarship criteria. Most awards are also need-based and therefore require the student to submit the FAFSA.

For more information about all UC Santa Cruz scholarships, visit financialaid.ucsc.edu.

Private Scholarships come from private agencies to students. You can access a free scholarship search service through our website at financialaid.ucsc.edu. Most libraries also maintain a scholarship reference section.

LOAN PROGRAMS

Loan eligibility is determined by the Financial Aid and Scholarship Office. You must repay loans—generally, after you graduate or leave school. Loan limits, interest rates, and repayment terms are subject to change.

Federal Perkins Loans* are awarded to undergraduate students based on need. Repayment begins nine months after graduation or withdrawal from an institution of higher education at a fixed rate of 5 percent interest per year.

William D. Ford Federal Direct Loans Subsidized loans are awarded based on need and do not accrue interest. Repayment begins after graduation, as long as the student is enrolled at least half-time. Unsubsidized loans begin accruing interest at the date of the first disbursement and are not contingent upon need. A fee of 1% is subtracted from the loan amount. The interest rate for subsidized direct loans was 3.4% and unsubsidized direct loans was 6.8% for student borrowers in 2012-2013. The amount of money you may borrow depends on your grade level and dependency status. Visit studentloans.gov for more details.

Federal Direct Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS) are provided to qualified parent applicants. Parents may borrow up to the full cost of education as defined by the UC Santa Cruz Financial Aid and Scholarship Office less any financial assistance the student receives. PLUS loans have a fixed interest rate of 7.9% and loan fees are 4% percent of the loan amount. For more information on parent PLUS loans, visit studentloans.gov.

Private Loans Private loan terms are generally not as favorable as those of federal loans. However, you may visit financialaid.ucsc.edu for information on some private loan options.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

Each student is expected to earn part of their education expenses each year. This can be done during summer or part-time during the academic year. Some students may receive a Federal Work-Study offer as part of their aid package. This program helps fund a portion of your wages if you find employment in a Work-Study job. However, the offer is not a job guarantee. The UC Santa Cruz Career Center posts jobs for students in their online system. Job postings include both on and off-campus positions—work-study and non-work-study positions. Additionally, we encourage students to network on campus and learn about job opportunities that may otherwise not be advertised. Santa Cruz is a relatively small community and jobs are competitive so we urge students to plan accordingly.

* Students must meet financial aid application deadlines to qualify—see back panel.

TREVOR
Trevor is from Massachusetts where his parents both work. Together they earn $82,000. Trevor has a younger brother who attends high school. Because he is not a resident of California, he must pay non-resident tuition in addition to fees that California residents pay. UC financial aid programs do not cover non-resident tuition expenses because UC is publically funded by the state of California. The family must pay this expense in addition to the amount they are expected to contribute using data from the FAFSA.

- Minus UC Santa Cruz Grant: $13,156
- Undergraduate Dean’s Award: $4,000

Note: Families in these scenarios met all application deadlines. They have no additional untaxed income and modest savings/investments. Assumptions have been made about the amount of federal tax they pay each year. Actual results will vary depending on these and other factors. See application deadlines on back page.
